Secondary Complications: Heterotopic Ossification

Also, referred to as HO. It is the growth of bone in abnormal places, such as soft tissues. May be a complication following injury to the brain. It may cause decreased range of motion in the affected joint. The cause exact cause is unknown.

Please visit this resource for more detailed information:

Shepherd Center
myShepherdConnection.org